

THE RACING PAPER

THE ULTIMATE GUIDE TO YOUR WEEKEND'S BETTING

A new era in racing papers is set for off

By Graham

This is dummy copy for word count purposes only. Please replace with correct text. The game is up for the new era in racing papers is set for off.

It was a Saturday morning, a beautiful day, and the sun was shining. The jockey, who was a local hero, was riding a horse that was a local favorite. The horse was a champion, and the jockey was a champion. They were both champions, and they were both champions. They were both champions, and they were both champions.

The jockey was a local hero, and the horse was a local favorite. They were both champions, and they were both champions. They were both champions, and they were both champions. They were both champions, and they were both champions.

The jockey was a local hero, and the horse was a local favorite. They were both champions, and they were both champions. They were both champions, and they were both champions. They were both champions, and they were both champions.

The jockey was a local hero, and the horse was a local favorite. They were both champions, and they were both champions. They were both champions, and they were both champions. They were both champions, and they were both champions.

The jockey was a local hero, and the horse was a local favorite. They were both champions, and they were both champions. They were both champions, and they were both champions. They were both champions, and they were both champions.

The jockey was a local hero, and the horse was a local favorite. They were both champions, and they were both champions. They were both champions, and they were both champions. They were both champions, and they were both champions.

The jockey was a local hero, and the horse was a local favorite. They were both champions, and they were both champions. They were both champions, and they were both champions. They were both champions, and they were both champions.

The jockey was a local hero, and the horse was a local favorite. They were both champions, and they were both champions. They were both champions, and they were both champions. They were both champions, and they were both champions.

The jockey was a local hero, and the horse was a local favorite. They were both champions, and they were both champions. They were both champions, and they were both champions. They were both champions, and they were both champions.

The jockey was a local hero, and the horse was a local favorite. They were both champions, and they were both champions. They were both champions, and they were both champions. They were both champions, and they were both champions.

The jockey was a local hero, and the horse was a local favorite. They were both champions, and they were both champions. They were both champions, and they were both champions. They were both champions, and they were both champions.

The jockey was a local hero, and the horse was a local favorite. They were both champions, and they were both champions. They were both champions, and they were both champions. They were both champions, and they were both champions.

The jockey was a local hero, and the horse was a local favorite. They were both champions, and they were both champions. They were both champions, and they were both champions. They were both champions, and they were both champions.

BIG discounts available in this new and exciting publication!

The Racing Paper is the must-buy companion for horse racing and major sports betting.

Published every Saturday morning throughout England, Scotland and Wales it features all Saturday and Sunday horse racing plus a special pull-out section for sports betting across the board.

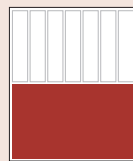

Our comprehensive racing section brings expert analysis from our tipsters plus big-name interviews and columns.

In the Sport Bet section you will find an exclusive column on football betting from Michael Owen plus other leading personalities from Cricket, Golf, Rugby, Tennis, Motor Racing, American Football and much, much more.

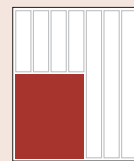

Rate card 2018

Full Page
263mm wide
x 321mm high
£1,250

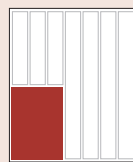

Half Page
263mm wide
x 158mm high £800

20x4
149mm wide
x 200mm high £625

Front strip
263mm wide
x 50mm high £800

15x3
111mm wide x
150mm high
£335

12x2
73mm wide
x 120mm high £195

Discounts:

Rates can be discounted depending on level of activity. Contact Graham Wright on graham@racingahead.net or 0845 638 0704 for more information and more ad sizes.

New Customer Offer

Get started with £50 in Free Bets and a £10 Casino Bonus

